

International Summer Programme

GLOBAL TEACHING & LEARNING

Are you interested in identifying strategies for incorporating intercultural and comparative dimensions into your teaching for developing global perspectives?

Do you consider introducing an international component for your course/program or are you looking for global collaboration opportunities?

Apply for the International Summer Program in Global Teaching and Learning!

This is a professional development opportunity for academic staff organised jointly by North Carolina State University (NC State), USA and UniCA Department of International Development and Europe, in collaboration with UniCA Pedagogical Innovation Center and MCI, Austria. Ten UniCA and ten NC State academic staff will be selected to partake in the program.

Programme Highlights:

- Concepts and models of global teaching and learning
- Inclusive international education (universal design for learning, etc.)
- Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL)
- Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL)
- Co-designing a global collaboration project.

APPLY HERE

For further questions, please contact:

ddie.poleattractivite@univ-cotedazur.fr

DATE

23-27 June 2025

LOCATION

Nice

WHO SHOULD APPLY?

Full-time UniCA academic staff interested in enhancing their teaching with global perspectives and collaboration

DEADLINE

15 May 2025 (extended)